

Went grocery shopping @ Max Value. Got Bongas! Home to swim!
 25 R, mA, N, m dte m! Salad & cheese & crackers & mango sorbet.
 To Sigatoka Sand Dunes! Rod, mA, Nora & Megan went to the FRIDAY Sigatoka Sand Dunes. Left ~ 8:45 am. Hiked liesrly along the trail. A bit of rain. Beach was beautiful, big waves. Very clear.
 did some beach combing then hiked back*. Drove to Sigatoka went to the market to buy some yaguna. We also got some $1.50 roti fish & potato packets for lunch. Went back to the sand dunes to eat * As we were hiking out 4 buses of school kids arrived!
 Reason for Dinner. Good food but lots of kids!

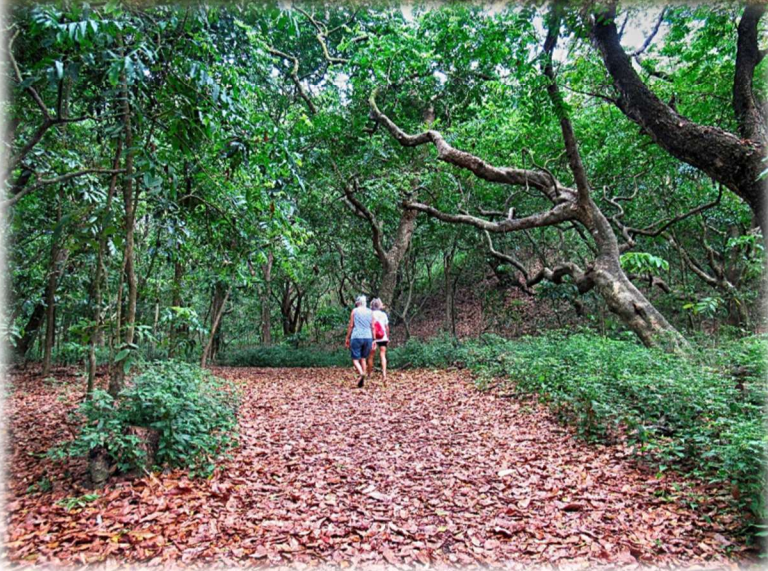

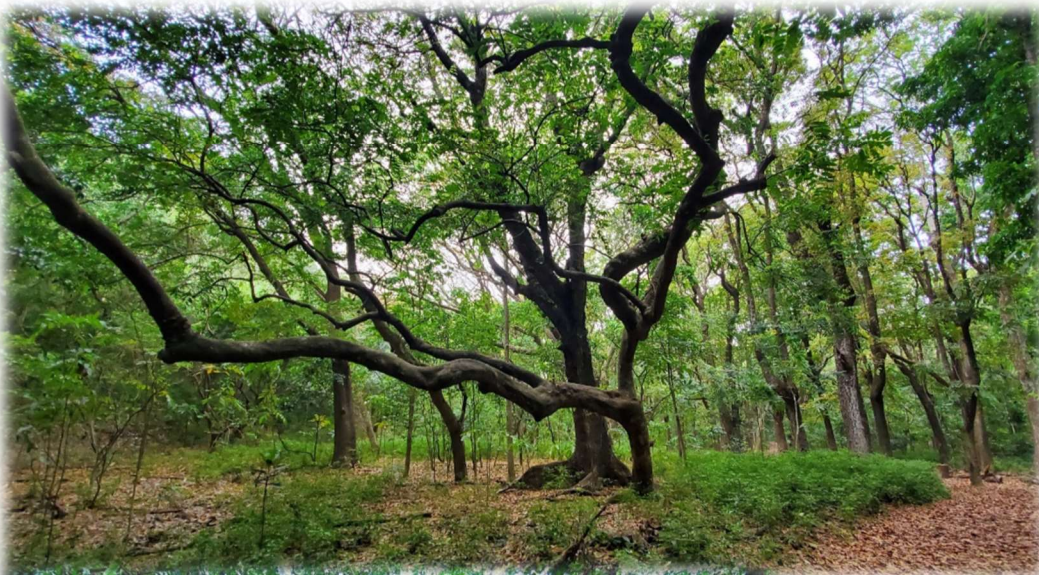

View from the pandanus trees

Pandanus leaves are used for handicrafts. Artisans collect the leaves from plants in the wild, cutting only mature leaves so that the plant will naturally regenerate. The leaves are sliced into fine strips and sorted for further processing. Weavers produce basic pandan mats of standard size or roll the leaves into pandan ropes for other designs. This is followed by a coloring process, in which pandan mats are placed in drums with water-based colors. After drying, the colored mats are shaped into final products, such as placemats or jewelry boxes. Final color touch-ups may be applied. AND you can eat the fruit.

Another day done. Goodbye breeze, goodbye trees, goodbye ocean, and goodnight bees.

